

Holiday EVERY DAY!

What warms the heart and brings a smile to the face more than a holiday? With most staying indoors, decorations and traditions from the different celebrations throughout the year can lift peoples' spirits and bring joy while still following the guidelines for safety.

Light it Up!

Throughout the country, many people are taking the time to bring some sparkle and shine to their neighborhood by redecorating their home like it's the holidays. Pull out your holiday lights and decorations and put them up again!

Eggstra Special

If you have little ones, create a bunny trail for them to follow and find little treasures. It's a fun twist on the classic egg hunt. If you don't have kids, make yourself a beautiful brunch with all the amazing items you love: quiche, mimosa, special coffee drink, omelet bar, etc.

Sending Love

Create old-fashioned Valentine cards with different craft supplies you have laying around your house. You can even use magazines! Mail them to your friends, family and clients with a special message of happiness and hope.

Quarantine-oween

Make some spooky decorations (those cobwebs that are forming can come in handy!). Throw together a costume and invite your friends to a ghoulish good time (virtually). Check Apple Music, Spotify or other streaming music apps for a Halloween playlist and do the mash... the monster mash!

Attitude of Gratitude

Put together a Thanksgiving feast. Pull out that frozen turkey (or get a roast chicken if no turkey available). Even better, make a spread of your favorite foods. A hodge podge of the tasty things that make you feel good. Set the table and sit down for an evening of sharing good vibes. You might even write little messages to people you are grateful to have in your life and send it to them.
